Seniors of '57

The Class of '57 has grown from small, bewildered freshmen to sophisticated seniors ready for graduation.

When the Seniors of '57 were freshmen they were led by their class officers, Sibyl Ingle, Diana Perry, and Don Wykes.

Diana Perry was chosen football queen during the sophomore year. John Dillard, Jerome Niebaum, and Lloyd Reeves were the sophomore year class officers.

As Juniors, under the leadership of Jerome Niebaum, Alfred Lowe, Marilyn Lungren, and Beth Hardesty, the year was very busy. The Juniors sold magazines, and scored a big hit with their play, "A Dance with our Miss Brooks." With these funds they entertained the seniors with "Rhapsody in Blue," the theme of the junior-senior banquet. A citizenship essay contest was won by Diana Perry. Diana's essay won first in district and third in the state.

Soon they were seniors and found themselves snowed under with activities. The Class of '57 elected Chet May, Jane Peters, Diana Perry, and Marilyn Lungren as their class leaders. Alfred Lowe was elected All-State High School Gridman. The senior boys who played on the football team were proud to say they had won the Southern Kansas League football championship for four years straight. Beth Hardesty was elected queen of the football team and John Dillard served as student council president. The seniors presented a comedy "December Bride" on December 7.

Skip Day, their senior trip, and graduation brought their memorable high school days to a close.

The Future Homemakers of America started the year's activities with the used book sale in August. Early in the school year initiation of new members took place at Bauer's Canyon. At the district meeting in South Haven in October, the Caldwell chapter received an honor chapter award. A waffle supper, pie sale, and chili supper were January activities. The annual Valentine dance was a highlight of the social activities. In April an ice cream social was held. Most of the girls attended the state meeting at Topeka on March 9. To end the year a leadership training camp was held at Camp Goddard from May 25 to May 28. As a community project for the year, the members of F.H.A. made trash cans and put them on Main Street.

The Kayettes started off the year by having coke parties for the faculty and freshmen girls. As school projects they sponsored a school election and cleaned the trophies. On December 13, they held a candy sale and the money went to buy CARE packages and to help the TB Christmas Seal Campaign. These were their world and community projects.

The Kayettes were in charge of the annual Christmas program on Friday, December 21.

They have received the 1000 and 2000 point awards and worked on the second 3000 point award this year.
